- d. More ships

8. Friday's instantaneous servitude to Crusoe also raises questions about:

- a. Crusoe's sense of his own rank and power.
- b. Friday's weakness.
- c. Friday's loyalty.
- d. All false

9. Crusoe easily could lift Friday from the ground when Friday grovels before him, but he does not. This is because:

- a. He wants Friday to depend on himself.
- b. He accepts Friday as a servant and an inferior, assuming his own superiority.
- c. He wants to punish him for not obeying his orders.
- d. All false

10. Friday may be the first New World “savage” in English literature to force a questioning of:

- a. Whether Native Americans are cannibals.
- b. Whether Native Americans can be civilized.
- c. Whether white people should automatically assume superiority over other races.
- d. All false
