

1) Cultural problems are a category of translation problems and they cover:

- problems at lexical, grammatical and Textual levels
- a large range of categories such as Ecology, materials, social organization, religion, History, etc.
- both true
- all false

2) Idioms and fixed expressions are defines as

- variable patterns of language
- frozen patterns of language
- changeable pattern of language

3) The smallest unit of language that can be used by itself is

- the idiom
- the morpheme
- the expressio
- the word

4) Problems of lexical translation include problems at

- Sentence, text level and above word levels
- discourse and above word levels
- morpheme, word and above word levels

5) Cultural problems in translation cover

- problems at sentence level
- problems at social level
- problems at discourse level
- problems at above word level.

6) A collocation is a sequence of words which tend to In a given language

- co-occur regularly
- co-occur irregularly
- co- occur sometimes.

7) Examples of frozen patterns of language are

- verbs and nouns in a sentence.
- idioms and fixed expressions
- collocations and alliterations
- prefixes and suffixes in a sentence

8) The minimal formal element of meaning in language is

- the morpheme.
- the word.
- the idiom.
- the expression

9) Fixed expressions are frozen patterns of language . for example

- "look up at the sky"
- "refuse to accept responsibility"
- "as a matter of fact"