

- The Russian trader tells Marlowe that he has been a merchant seaman and was working for a.....company

-Dutch

British

German

Portugese

In the Inner Station, Kurtz tells Marlowe that he is '.....' to see him. The original word in the quote is.....

Diasappointed

troubles

glad

eager

Marlowe is thoroughly disgusted by the manager's hypocritical condemnations of Kurtz; he tells the manager that he thinks that kurtz is a/an '.....man'. The original adjective in the text is.....

Excellent

remarkable

smart

successful

By the end of HOD, Kurtz's philosophical musings are interspersed wition grandiose and.....plans for fame and future.

Serious

childish

big

small

The central theme of HOD is .....and Imperialism.

Colonialism

Humanism

Socialism

Individualism

Darkness is most often used.....in HOD.

Literally

metaphorically

exagggertedly

ironically the Europeans are unable to see the exploitation/ slavery/ suffering of the Africans.

The Congo River in HOD is the.....to Africa for the Europeans.

Passage

gate

door

key

In the Congo, the women and children are separated from men and held hostage until men brought their own quote of.....and ivory.

Silk
coffee
rubber
spices

At the Company's offices in HOD, Marlowe finds.....sinister woman knitting a black wool, one of whom admits him to a waiting room.

two three four six

In the Central Station, Marlowe notices an unusual painting of a blindfolded woman with a lighted.....

Torch
candle
fire
light

While Marlowe is waiting for his ship to be repaired, he overhears one night the managewr and his uncle compaining about.....and discussing to get rid of him.

Kurtz
the accountant
the brickmaker
one of the natives

Kurtz describes his own treatment with the natives with the words 'suppression' and '.....'

Termination
extermination
execution
extincttion

The world has defeated Marlowe in some fundamental way; he is weary, skeptical, and cynical. Ineed, he shifts between the role of the.....and that of the 'working tough'.

Critic
. uneducated intellectual redaer