

Moving to another question will save this response.

Question 1

Using technology in assessment can:

- be a bad decision
- be a negative decision
- be a double edged sword
- be a positive decision

Moving to another question will save this response.

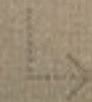

⚠ Moving to another question will save this response.

Question 2

Good progress has been achieved in natural language processing in the following area:

- Spam detectors
- Live chat by robot
- Self-driving cars
- Big data

⚠ Moving to another question will save this response.

Moving to another question will save this response.

Question 3

An example of asynchronous computer mediated communication is:

- live meetings
- live chat
- hypermedia
- Sending a direct message on twitter

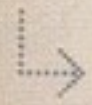

Moving to another question will save this response.

Question 4

_____ can refer to learners' work on CALL tasks that can be recorded and observed.

- recordings
- processing ideas
- process data
- negotiation

Click Submit to complete this assessment.

Question 5

One example of how IT changed the English language itself is:

- corpora
- learning the language is easier
- Changing the alphabetical system
- less or no gatekeeping

Click Submit to complete this assessment.