Getting Meaning From Context:

When you read, you don't want to look up the meanings of all new words in a dictionary. You can often guess the meaning. Here are three ways that will help you to guess new words:

1. Punctuation: () (-) , ; :

There is a drawback, a disadvantage, to that idea.

(Drawback means disadvantage.)

e.g. Full-color pictures are printed using only black and three colors: yellow, cyan (a light blue) and magenta (a light purple).

an unfamiliar word = cyan and magenta

signal punctuation = ()

meaning : cyan = a light blue and magenta = a light purple

2. A clue in another Sentence: (surrounding words)

e.g. A school system in one country is not identical to the system in any other country. It cannot be exactly the same because each culture is different.

(in the second sentence, you see the meaning of identical – exactly the same)

3. Logic:

e.g. The educational system is a mirror that reflects the culture.

(you probably know the word mirror, so you can guess that reflects means shows.)

Let's Guess the Meaning ☺

1. In a number of countries, education is both compulsory-required-and universal, available to everyone, at least in primary school (elementary school).

Compulsory= _____

Universal=_____

Primary= _____

2. Public schools are all both free and egalitarian; all students are considered equal and learn the same the same material.

Egalitarian = _____

Identifying the Main Idea:

HOW TO IDENTIFY THE QUESTION	What is the topic of the passage? What is the subject of the passage? What is the main idea of the passage? What is the author's main point in the passage? With what is the author primarily concerned? Which of the following would be the best title?
WHERE TO FIND THE ANSWER	The answer to this type of question can generally be determined by looking at the first sentence of each paragraph.
HOW TO ANSWER THE QUESTION	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Read the first line of each paragraph. 2. Look for a common theme or idea in the first lines. 3. Pass your eyes quickly over the rest of the passage to check that you have really found the topic sentence(s). 4. Eliminate any definitely wrong answers and choose the best answer from the remaining choices.

Example

Here is a paragraph to consider. Look for the main idea of this paragraph:

The life of a doctor is not easy. Martin works a very long day, and he is very busy with a variety of activities. He spends a lot of time with people, but he also spends a lot of time working on reports in his office.

* What is the main idea of this paragraph?

If you said that the life of a doctor is not easy, you are correct.

Another Example:

The CNA's in this office can't always come to work on the same schedule each week. Sometimes they have to talk to each other and work out differences in the schedule. They usually can do this without any trouble. Ben, Victoria, and Alex work together very well.

* What is the main idea of the paragraph?

If you said that they can all work together well, you are correct.

Skimming for the topic Main Idea:

Hint: Remember that the topic is just a word or noun phrase – a few words. It is not a sentence.

The main idea is in a sentence or two and can be found at the beginning, middle, or end of a paragraph.

Each Paragraph has a main idea.

e.g.

¹Do you have a favorite season? ²Winter, fall, and spring have many advantages. ³However, summertime is my favorite season because it offers the tranquility of the beach as well as the exhilaration of outdoor sports. ⁴First, sitting on the other side of a sand dune, hidden by sea oats and sedge, I like looking at the Atlantic Ocean, scanning for dolphins and pelicans. ⁵Looking at something larger than I am gives me a sense of awe and gratitude and provides a backdrop for some deep musings. ⁶Second, summertime provides me with the chance to go sailing, surfing, and hiking along the shore. ⁷The exercise enhances my sense of well being and creates a feeling of optimism.

1-- The topic of the paragraph is

- | | |
|--------------------------|------------------------------|
| a. sailing and surfing. | b. summertime. |
| c. seasons at the beach. | d. ways to develop optimism. |

2-- The main idea of the paragraph is

- | | | | |
|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|
| a. sentence 1. | b. sentence 2. | c. sentence 3. | d. sentence 4. |
|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|

Understanding Pronoun Reference:

Because a pronoun REFERS to a noun or TAKES THE PLACE OF that noun, you have to use the correct pronoun so that your reader clearly understands which noun your pronoun is referring to. Therefore, pronouns should:

1. Agree in number

If the pronoun takes the place of a singular noun, you have to use a singular pronoun.

e.g. If a student parks a car on campus, he or she has to buy a parking sticker.

(NOT>> If a student parks a car on campus, they have to buy a parking sticker.)

Hint:

Remember:

The words everybody, anybody, anyone, each, neither, nobody, someone, a person, etc. are singular and take singular pronouns.

Examples:

- Everybody ought to do his or her best. (NOT>> their best)
- Neither of the girls brought her umbrella. (NOT>> their umbrellas).

2. Agree in person

If you are writing in the "first person" (I), don't confuse your reader by switching to the "second person" (you) or "third person" (he, she, they, it, etc.). Similarly, if you are using the "second person," don't switch to "first" or "third."

e.g. When a person comes to class, he or she should have his or her homework ready.

(NOT>> When a person comes to class, you should have your homework ready.)

-- Choosing the Correct Pronoun

Circle the pronoun that agrees in number with its antecedent in each sentence.

- 1- Each of the girls makes (her, their) own clothes.
- 2- The jury finally made (its, their) decision.
- 3- It often seems that television programmers are not concerned with (its, their) viewers.
- 4- Both Tim and Tony write (his, their) mothers twice a week from camp.

HOW TO IDENTIFY THE QUESTION	The pronoun "..." in line X refers to which of the following? <hr/> Look at the word X. Click on the word or phrase that X refers to. <hr/>
WHERE TO FIND THE ANSWER	The line where the pronoun is located is given in the question. Getting Meaning From Context:

Here are another three ways that will help you to guess new words:

1. The words for example, for instance, such as, and among them:

Example: Almost four billion people will be living in cities in developing countries such as India and Nigeria.

Meaning: Developing Countries : not rich country

2. Sometimes another word or words in another sentence or sentence part has the opposite meaning from a new vocabulary item:

Example: In some cities, instead of worsening, urban life is getting much better.

Worsening = much better

3. A definition or explanation follows the connecting words that is or in other words:

Example: The downtown shopping area is now a pedestrian zone-in other words, an area for walkers only, no cars.

A pedestrian zone is an area for walkers only.

-- Let's Do it Together:

People spend hours in gridlock –that is, traffic so horrible that it simply doesn't move – when they commute.

Gridlock = _____

Another Example:

Under his leadership, city planners established priorities – in other words, a list of what was most important.

Priorities = _____

Identifying Supporting Details:

- Specific Details (facts, ideas, and examples) that support and develop the main idea.
- Let's go and read the following passage to identify the main idea, the supporting details of each idea and the conclusion.

-- Identifying the Main idea & Supporting Details:

Why I Want to Learn English(1) There are three reasons why I want to learn English. (2) One reason is that English has become an international language.(3) It is now used by most international companies, including the company where I work, for business communication. (4) Another reason why I want to learn English is so that I can travel to English-speaking countries. (5) The United States, England, Australia and many other countries all use English as their primary language. (6) Finally, I want to learn English because I plan to move to the U.S. in the future. Understanding Italics:

It's used :

1. Emphasis

Example:

Overcrowding is a huge problem in that city.

2. A foreign word in an English sentence

Example:

In open areas in Seoul, Kaenari blooms everywhere in the spring.

Understanding Contrast:

Sometimes writers use contrast to express an idea. In other words, they begin with the opposite of the point that they want to make.

You use contrast clauses when you want to make two statements, one of which contrasts with the other or makes it appear unexpected or surprising. Some contrast clauses – called concessive clauses – are introduced by conjunctions such as although, even though or while.

Let's Go and see the following example →

Example: Although Mrs. Sims had lived in Hong Kong all her life, she knew very little Cantonese.

Hint: Contrast:

Don't use but in sentences beginning with although, even though or while. Here is a mistake:

Example: Although Kelvin worked hard, but he failed the examination.

You will sometimes see the word albeit used in formal English. Albeit can come before an adjective, adverb, or adverbial phrase.

Example: Jayne participated in the charity walk, albeit rather reluctantly.

Scanning:

Scanning is often confused with skimming, but is in fact a distinct reading strategy involving rapid but focused reading of text, in order to locate specific information, e.g. looking for particular details such as dates, names, or certain types of words. It is processing print at a high speed while looking for answers to specific questions. When you scan, you must begin with a specific question which has a specific answer. Scanning for information in this way should be both fast and accurate.

Let's Do Scanning:

Pulp Friction

Every second, 1 hectare of the world's rainforest is destroyed. That's equivalent to two football fields. An area the size of New York City is lost every day. In a year, that adds up to 31 million hectares -- more than the land area of Poland. This alarming rate of destruction has serious consequences for the environment; scientists estimate, for example, that 137 species of plant, insect or animal become extinct every day due to logging. In British Columbia, where, since 1990, thirteen rainforest valleys have been clearcut, 142 species of salmon have already become extinct, and the habitats of grizzly bears, wolves and many other creatures are threatened. Logging, however, provides jobs, profits, taxes for the government and cheap products of all kinds for consumers, so the government is reluctant to restrict or control it.

1. How many species of salmon have become extinct in BC?

- a. 27 b. 31 c. 137 d. 142

-- Use Scanning:

Much of Canada's forestry production goes towards making pulp and paper. According to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, Canada supplies 34% of the world's wood pulp and 49% of its newsprint paper. If these paper products could be produced in some other way, Canadian forests could be preserved. Recently, a possible alternative way of producing paper has been suggested by agriculturalists and environmentalists: a plant called hemp.

2. How much of the world's newsprint paper is supplied by Canada?

- a. 31 % b. 49% c. 34% d. 19%

-- Do it by yourself ☺:

However, there is a problem: hemp is illegal in many countries of the world. This plant, so useful for fibre, rope, oil, fuel and textiles, is a species of cannabis, related to the plant from which marijuana is produced. In the late 1930s, a movement to ban the drug marijuana began to gather force, resulting in the eventual banning of the cultivation not only of the plant used to produce the drug, but also of the commercial fibre-producing hemp plant. Although both George Washington and Thomas Jefferson grew hemp in large quantities on their own land, any American growing the plant today would soon find himself in prison -- despite the fact that marijuana cannot be produced from the hemp plant, since it contains in the drug).

What drug can be obtained from a relative of hemp?

- a. Cocaine b. heroin c. Amphetamine d. marijuana

Campus Life is Changing. Chapter One:

A

For many years in the United States, most undergraduate students (in their first four years of college) were 18 to 22 years old. They attended college full-time, lived in a dormitory on campus, and expected many “extras” from their colleges, not just classes. But things began to change in the 1970’s, and are very different now. Today, these “traditional” students are less than one-quarter (1/4) of all college students. These days the nontraditional students are the majority; they are different from traditional undergraduates in several ways. They are older. Many attend college part-time because they have families and jobs. Most live off campus, not in dormitories. These traditional students don’t want the extras that colleges usually offer. They aren’t interested in the sports, entertainment, religious groups, and museums that are part of most U.S. colleges. They want mainly good-quality classes, day or night, at a low cost. They also hope for easy parking, access to information technology, and polite service. Both time and money are important to them.

1. What is the Topic? _____
2. What is the Main Idea? _____
3. According to the passage, how today students are different from traditional students?

Non-traditional students are the minority.

Non-traditional students are not working these days.

Non-traditional students live on campus.

Non-traditional students are majority and part-timers

--Words in Phrases:

As you read, it’s important to begin noticing words that often go together. Go back to A paragraph. Find words to complete the following phrases and write them in the blanks. Most are prepositions.

Paragraph A

Lived _____ a dormitory _____ campus.

Many _____ college part-time (verb)

Access _____ information technology

--Understanding Pronoun Reference:

Look back at the reading selection "Campus Life is Changing" to find the meanings of the following pronouns. What does each pronoun refer to?

They (Paragraph A, line 2)_____

They (paragraph A, line 6)_____

Them (Paragraph A, line 12)_____

Paragraph B:

Psychological test reflect different learning styles in this new student population, too. Each person has a certain learning style, and about 60 percent of the new students these days prefer the sensing style. This means that they are very practical. They prefer a practice-to-theory method of learning, which is experience first and ideas after that. They often have difficulty with reading and writing and are unsure of themselves. Most of these students are attending college because they want to have a good job and make a lot of money.

1-What is the Topic?_____

2-What is the Main Idea?_____

3-According to the passage, what do 60 percent of the new students prefer these days?

- a. They prefer a practice – to- theory method of learning.
- b. They prefer a theory-to-practice theory method of learning.

Paragraph C :

C

In contrast other students (but not as many) prefer the intuitive learning style. These students love ideas. They prefer a theory-to-practice method of learning and enjoy independent, creative thinking. These "intuitive" are not very practical. They are attending college because they want to create unique works of art or study philosophy or someday help in the field of science.

-Topic:_____

-Main Idea:_____

Paragraph D:

There is a drawback for the students who prefer the sensing style of learning. A majority of college professors prefer the intuitive learning style. These teachers value independent thinking and creative ideas. Students in the sensing group are at a disadvantage because their way of thinking doesn't match their teachers'.

-Main idea:_____

- Words in phrases : - are _____ a disadvantage.
- Understanding Pronoun References: - Their (Paragraph D, line 4)_____

Paragraph F:

F

On all college campuses, student life is very different from what it used to be because of technology – specifically, the internet. At most colleges, all entering first-year students receive an email address. Dormitory rooms offer high-speed Internet access. Computer systems are available to everyone in computer labs, the library, and student centers. Application for classes and registration are usually now possible online. Most schools offer entire courses online. Many professors still have “office hours,” when students can come to talk with them about class work or ask for help. But increasingly, students can contact professors 24 hours a day, thanks to email. In many classes, students complete assignments and even take exams online. Perhaps most important for both students and professors, research is now easier and faster because of the new technology.

Paragraph E:

“There are several events that can change the Earth's surface very quickly. Volcanoes can erupt and spread lava, rock and ash for several miles. Earthquakes can leave large cracks in the Earth's surface.”

-What is the main idea?

1. Several events can change the Earth's surface.
2. Earthquakes can cause large cracks.
3. Volcanoes can be dangerous.
4. Earthquakes

Paragraph F:

“Most of the world's volcanoes are part of the "The Ring of Fire." This is a ring of volcanoes that form a circle around the Pacific Ocean. Thousands of volcanoes make up "The Ring of Fire." These volcanoes formed the sea floor and many underwater mountains.’

- What is the main idea?

1. There are thousands of volcanoes in the world.
2. Most volcanoes are part of the "Ring of Fire."
3. Some underwater mountains are volcanoes.
4. The Ring of Fire

-- Getting Meeting From Context :

1. On the one hand, there are many advantages to this system. On the other hand, there are also several drawbacks.

On the other hand = _____ from one point of view

On the other hand = _____

2. In a number of countries, education is both compulsory – required- and universal, available to everyone, at least in primary school (elementary school)

Compulsory=_____

Universal= _____

Primary school=_____

3. There are many more schools in cities than in rural areas.

Rural = _____

4. Public schools are all both free and egalitarian; all students are considered equal and learn the same material.

Egalitarian = _____

5. College students need great discipline; in order to make time for their studies, they need the self-control to give up hobbies, sports, and social life.

Discipline = _____

6. Results on these exams affect the entire family because there is high status, or social position, for a whole family in which children have high test scores.

A City That's Doing Something Right:

There's good news and bad news about life in modern cities—first, the bad. People who study population growth predict a nightmare by the year 2025: the global population will be more than 8 billion, and almost 4 billion of these people will be living in cities in developing countries such as India and Nigeria. Population growth is already causing unbelievable overcrowding. Due to overcrowding, these cities have problems with air pollution, disease, and crime. People spend hours in gridlock—that is, traffic so horrible that it simply doesn't move—when they commute daily from their homes to their work and back. There isn't enough water, transportation, or housing. Many people don't have access to health services or jobs. Now the good news: in some cities, instead of worsening urban life is actually getting much better.

-What does developing countries mean?

-What does gridlock mean?

-What does predict mean? To say in advance that something will happen

-What does commute mean?

-What does worsening mean?

Paragraph B : A City and Its Mayor:

It might not be a surprise to find that life in affluent cities is improving. But what about cities that aren't rich? The city of Curitiba, Brazil, proves that it's possible for even a city in a developing country to offer a good life to its residents. The mayor of Curitiba for twenty-five years, Jaime Lerner, was an architect and a very practical person. Under his leadership, the city planners established a list of priorities—in other words, a list of what was most important to work on. They decided to focus on the environment and on the quality of life. With an average income of only about $2000 per person per year, Curitiba has the same problems as many cities. However, it also has some creative solutions.

-Identify The Main Idea : _____

-What does affluent mean? _____

-What does priorities mean? _____

Paragraph C: Garbage Collection:

[C] One creative solution is the method of garbage collection. In neighborhoods that garbage trucks can't reach, poor people bring bags of trash to special centers. At these centers, they exchange the trash for fresh produce—such as potatoes and oranges—or for bus tickets. At a recycling plant, workers separate bottles, plastic, and cans from other trash. Two-thirds of Curitiba's garbage is recycled, which is good for the environment. And the plant gives jobs to the poorest people, which improves their lives.

Tash ◇

Produce◇

What does recycling plant mean?

Paragraph D. Transportation:

[D] Due to careful planning, Curitiba does not have the same traffic problems that most cities have. The statistics are surprising. The population has grown—now twice the size it was in 1974—but traffic has actually decreased 30 percent. Curitiba needed a mass-transit system but couldn't afford an expensive subway. City planners began, instead, with an unusual system of buses in the center lanes of five wide major streets..

Paragraph E: The Environment :

To make the environment both cleaner and more beautiful, Curitiba has strict laws against polluters. But it also has low taxes for companies that have green areas, so several hundre major industries such as Pepsi and Volvo have offices in the city. Bringing natural beauty into the city is a priority. For this reason, Curitiba gave 1.5 million young trees to neighborhoods to plant and take care of. And the downtown shopping area is now a pedestrian zone—in other words, for walkers only, no cars—and is lined with gardens.

-What does pedestrian zone means? _____

Paragraph F: A Symbol of the Possible:

Clearly, overcrowding in big cities worldwide is the cause of serious problems. However, the example of Curitiba provides hope that careful planning and creative thinking can lead to solutions to many of them. Curitiba is truly, as Lewis Mumford once said of cities in general, a "symbol of the possible.

-Find a sentence in the conclusion which seems to mean about the same main idea of the whole passage.

Section B:

Paragraph A: Sick-Building Syndrome:

Elizabeth Steinberg was a healthy sixteen-year-old student on the tennis team at St. Charles High School, west of Chicago, Illinois. But in the fall of 1977, he started to have strange health problems. The same thing happened to dozens of teachers and students at the school. They went to doctors for treatment of a number of symptoms such as sore throats, tiredness, headaches, and respiratory (breathing) difficulties. Doctors treated respiratory infections with antibiotics, but the condition didn't seem to improve, except—mysteriously—on weekends and over vacations, when the symptoms disappeared. Experts came to investigate and find the cause. They discovered that St. Charles High, like thousands of other schools and office buildings nationwide, is a "sick building"—in other words, a building that creates its own indoor air pollution.

-Topic: _____

-Main Idea : _____

-Understanding Pronoun Reference: They (paragraph a, Line 4) _____

Paragraph B:

People have worried about smog for many years, and the government has spent billions of dollars to try to clean up the air of big cities. But now we find that there is no escape from unhealthful air. Recent studies have shown that air inside many homes, office buildings, and schools is full of pollutants: chemicals, mold, bacteria, smoke, and gases. These pollutants are causing a group of unpleasant and dangerous symptoms that experts call "sick-building syndrome." First discovered in 1982, sick-building syndrome most often includes symptoms similar to the flu (watering eyes, headaches, and so on) and respiratory infections such as tonsillitis, bronchitis, and pneumonia.

-Topic:

-Topic sentence:

-What is the closest meaning to the word "Several" ?

-Understanding pronoun reference: these (par b, line 5).

Paragraph C:

Although most common in office buildings and schools, the indoor pollution that causes sick-building syndrome can also occur in houses. Imagine a typical home. The people who live there burn oil, wood, or gas for cooking and heating. They might smoke cigarettes, pipes, or cigars. They use chemicals for cleaning. They use hundreds of products made of plastic or particleboard—that is, an inexpensive kind of board made of very small pieces of wood held together with a chemical. These products give off chemicals that we can't see but that we do breathe in. In some homes, carbon monoxide from cars in the garage can enter the house. And in many areas, the ground under the building might send a dangerous gas called radon into the home. The people in the house are breathing in a "chemical soup."

-Topic:

-Topic Sentence or main idea:

-Understanding Pronoun Reference:

1. they (paragraph c, line 3)
2. them (paragraph c, line

Paragraph D:

There are several solutions to the problem of sick-building syndrome, among them cleansing the building. First, of course, experts must determine the specific cause in any one building. Then workers probably need to take out carpets, wallpaper, and ceiling tiles in order to remove mold and bacteria. Also, they need to clean out the air conditioning system and completely rebuild the system of ventilation. They should remove synthetic products and bring in natural products, instead, if they are available.

A definition gives the meaning of words. The writer may use words, phrases, or statements to define something. The writer will use key words, or signal words to identify a definition so you need to look for them. See examples of key words below.

-Key words	is/are	means/mean
	is/are called	what this means is
	is/are known as	consist of
	is/are defined as	refer to
	is/are described as	may be seen as

e.g.

Someone who explores and studies caves is known as a spelunker.

-an unfamiliar word = spelunker

-signal words = is known as

-definition = someone who explores and studies caves

-Exercise 1

Use signal words as your clues to find the meaning of the underlined words. Circle signal words and write their meaning in the space provided.

1. The encyclopedia defines astrology as “the ancient art or science of divining the fate and future of human beings from indications given by the positions of stars and other heavenly bodies.”

astrology means _____

3 Getting Meaning from Context Use both specific clues in these sentences and your own logic to determine the meanings of the underlined words and expressions. Then write your guess about the meaning. Compare your answers with those of a partner.

1. Twenty years ago, in many countries, people could choose their livelihood, but they couldn't usually choose to change from one profession to another.

2. Many people with temporary jobs would prefer more permanent posts.

3. Even in Japan, where people traditionally had a very secure job for life, there is now no promise of a lifetime job with the same company.

4. When they lose their job, they also lose their self-confidence, or belief in their own ability.

5. They usually need to upgrade their skills to find a new, better job.

6. Because technology changes fast, workers need continuing education if they want to keep up with the field.

7. In many professions, telecommuting is now possible. People can work at home for some—or all—of the week and communicate by computer, telephone, and fax.

8. It's difficult for some people to focus on work when they are at home. The refrigerator, TV, and their children often distract them.

9. There is an advantage to technology: customers and clients have access to businesspeople at any time and anywhere. However, there is also a drawback: many businesspeople don't want to be available day and night.

10. Many people don't have time for their family, friends, or leisure activities such as hobbies, sports, or movies.

11. There are advantages and disadvantages to globalization, and we are all affected by it.

12. Some people are flexible and can adjust well to change, but others are more rigid.

flexible: _____

rigid: _____

13. Workaholism is another common problem in the 21st century.

4 Comparing Answers Compare your answers in the previous activity with those of other students. Were your answers similar? Now, go back to the vocabulary chart in Activity 2. Can you check any more words?

Strategy

Previewing a Reading

It helps to preview a chapter or passage before you read it so you can get an idea of what the article is about. In other words, look it over quickly to see what you can expect. Specifically, look at

- headings (the “titles” of the paragraphs), which indicate main topics
- pictures
- charts, figures, or diagrams

- Previewing is a useful way to determine the usefulness of a text, how easy or difficult it will be to read, and what reading speed to use to read it well.

- Guidelines for Previewing Passages:

- “Read the title.
- Look at the pictures (if there are any).
- Read the first few sentences in the first paragraph.
- Read the first line of the other paragraphs.
- Read the first and last sentences of the last paragraphs.”
- When previewing, look at tables, graphs etc as well as headings

“Helicopters”

Reading Comprehension – Informational Passages

Directions: Read the passage. Then answer questions about the passage below.

Helicopters are very different from airplanes. They can do three things that airplanes cannot do. First, when airplanes move upward, they must also move forward, but helicopters can move straight up without moving ahead. Second, helicopters can fly backward, which airplanes cannot do. Third, helicopters can use their rotors to hover in the air (stay in one place) which is impossible for planes.

Because helicopters can perform actions that airplanes cannot, they are used for different tasks. Since helicopters can take off without moving forward, they do not need a runway for takeoff. They are used in congested areas where there is no room for airplanes or in isolated areas which do not have airports. Because they can hover, they are used on firefighting missions to drop water on fires. They are used in logging operations to lift trees out of forests. Helicopters are used as air ambulances to airlift patients out of situations which are difficult to reach by conventional ambulances. The police use helicopters to follow suspects on the ground or to search for cars on the ground. Of course, helicopters have military uses because of their design and capabilities.

USING THE PREFIX OVER-

The prefix over- can appear as part of a noun, verb, or adjective. In some words, it indicates that there is too much of something or that someone is doing too much of a certain action.

Example Some people overwork and don't enjoy their work.
overwork (verb) = work too much

11 Using the Prefix Over- Read the definitions below. Write the words being defined. They begin with over. Then compare your answers with another student's.

1. do something too much (verb) = overdo
2. a place with too many people or things; a crowded place (adjective) =

3. give an estimate that is too high (verb) = _____
4. left unpaid, undone, or unreturned too long, past the due date (adjective) =

5. too many people in an area; a population that is too high (noun) =

What Are Prefixes?

A prefix is a group of letters we add to the front of a word.
Prefixes change the meaning or purpose of the word, e.g.

- Un = not
- Un = reversal or cancellation of action or state
- un + kind = unkind
- unacceptable, unreal, unhappy, unmanned
- unplug, unmask

*The prefix 'un'

- My mum was unwell at the weekend with a bad cold.
- Jerry seemed unhappy that the cat was by his hole.

*The prefix 'dis'

- Dis = negation, removal, expulsion
- e.g. - disadvantage, dismount, disbud, disbar
- Sally disagreed with Tom over who threw the snowball.

*How has the word meaning been altered with this prefix?

agree-----disagree

Again the word has become an antonym (opposite) of the root word.

- Can you disable the alarm?

*Add the prefix 'un' to these root words!

*Add the suffix 'dis' to these root words!

*Is it 'un' or 'dis'?

discharge	unwell
Uncover	unfit
Disobey	disagree
Disapprove	disappear
	disbelief

Prefixes 2 = re, de, pre

To understand what is meant by the term 'prefix';

To recognise and spell the prefixes: - re, de and pre.

*The prefix 're' :

re = again

repaint, reappraise, reawake

-Danny had to refill the bucket.

-The T.V. showed an action replay.

*The prefix 'de'

de = down, away

de= removal, reversal

- Descend, despair, depend, deduct

- de-ice, decamp

- Dad had to defrost the chicken before he put it in the oven.

- The time to depart from the station had arrived.

*The prefix 'pre'

Pre = before in time, place, order or importance

- pre-adolescent, prelude, precondition

- John liked prehistoric animals.

- A prefix is fixed to the front of a word.

To recognise and spell the prefixes: - re, de, pre, un and dis.

Read the sentence carefully.

- ✓ Add the correct prefix and rewrite the sentence.
- ✓ Use a dictionary to find more words with the prefixes 're' 'pre' or 'de.'

For the first time in history, almost the entire world is now sharing the same economic system. Communism began to fall in the late 1980s, and since then, capitalism has spread to most corners of the world. The basis of a "pure" capitalist economy is free trade, also called "open trade". There are benefits of open trade for both rich and poor countries. For developed countries such as Japan and England, free trade brings with it more competition, which in turn brings advantages such as lower prices and more choices of products for consumers. For developing countries, open trade means that people have access to essential goods such as food, clothing, and fuel (for transportation and heat). An open economic system can be a key to improving the lives of people in both poor and rich countries because it can reduce poverty and improve living conditions.

6. What can reduce the poverty? ____
a. Developed countries b. An open economy c. war d. Communism

A hundred years ago, in most of the world, people didn't have much choice about the work that they would do, where they would do it, or how they would do it. If their parents were farmers, they became farmers. The society and tradition determined their profession. twenty years ago in many countries, people could choose their livelihood. They also had the certainty of a job for life, but they usually couldn't choose to change from one employer to another or from one profession to another. Today, this is not always the case. Career councilors tell us that the world of work is already changing fast and will change dramatically in the next 25 years.

The situation varies from country to country, but in today's economy, there is generally less job security worldwide. Even in Japan, where people traditionally had a very secure job for life, there is now no promise of a lifetime job with the same company. One reason for the lack of job security is the worldwide decrease in manufacturing jobs. Another reason is employer's need to hold down costs. This has resulted in two enormous changes for the workforce.

Looking for Work in the 21st Century

A Not very long ago, when people needed to find a job, there were several possible steps. They might begin with a look through the classified ads in the newspaper. They could go to the personnel office at various companies and fill out an application, or they could go to an employment agency. They could even find out about a job opening through word-of-mouth—from another person who had heard about it.

-They (Paragraph A, Line 2) _____

B These days, job hunting is more complicated. The first step is to determine what kind of job you want (which sounds easier than it is) and make sure that you have the right education for it. Rapid changes in technology and science are creating many professions that never existed until recently. It is important to learn about them because one might be the perfect profession for you. The fastest-growing areas for new jobs are in computer technology and health services. Jobs in these fields usually require specific skills, but you need to find out exactly which skills and which degrees are necessary. For example, it may be surprising to learn that in the sciences, an M.S. is more marketable than a Ph.D.! In other words, there are more jobs available for people with a Master of Science degree than for people with a doctorate. (However, people who want to do research still need a Ph.D.)

c How do people learn about "hot" new professions? How do they discover their "dream job"? Many people these days go to a career counselor. In some countries, job hopping has become so common that career counseling is now "big business." People sometimes spend large amounts of money for this advice. In Canada and the United States, high school and college students often have access to free vocational counseling services on campus. There is even a career organization, the Five O'Clock Club, which helps members to set goals. Members focus on this question: what sort of person do you want to be years from now? The members then plan their careers around that goal. All career counselors—private or public—agree on one basic point: it is important for people to find a career that they love. Everyone should be able to think, "I'm having such a good time. I can't believe they're paying me to do this."

D After people have determined what their dream job is, they need to find it. The biggest change in job hunting these days is the use of the Internet. More and more employers are advertising job openings on their computer websites. More and more job hunters are applying for jobs online. There are also several thousand job boards, among them HotJobs.com, Jobsjobsjobs.com, and Monster.com. Some people think that online job hunting is only for people in technology fields, but this isn't true. Over 65 percent of online job seekers are from nontechnical fields. Even truck drivers now find jobs on the Internet!

E So how does this work? A job seeker can reply to a "Help Wanted" notice on a company's website. This person can also post his or her résumé (page with information about education and work experience) on one—or many—of the online job boards. If a company is interested, the person still has to take the next step the old-fashioned way—actually go to the job interview and perhaps take a skills test. However, even this might soon change. In the near future, companies will be able to give the person a skills test and check his or her background (job history and education) online. But what about the interview? Companies will soon be able to interview the person by videolink, so people can interview for jobs in other cities—or even other countries—without leaving home. Clearly, job hunting is not what it used to be.

Read the Following Passage: P130

F Travelers who return from a vacation often answer the question "How was your trip?" by saying, "Oh, it was out of this world!" By this idiom, they mean, of course, that their trip was amazing or wonderful. However, people will soon be able to use this expression literally, but it will be expensive.

▲ Would you like to travel into space?

Already, it's possible to go through the same training that astronauts go through. Just go to Star City, Russia. In addition to astronaut training, it's possible to experience one of their "Space Adventures." On one of these, for example, you can enter a special plane that gives you the feeling of weightlessness that astronauts experience—several minutes of zero-gravity. (Gravity is the force that keeps us on the Earth.) Two private individuals have already spent a week at the International Space Station, at a price of $20,000,000 each. A number of companies are now planning projects to commercialize space in various ways. A California company, Scaled Composites, and a British company, Virgin

Galactica, are working on the creation of reusable vehicles that could carry passengers in the near future. Even the Hilton Hotel chain is considering building a space hotel. The main attractions will be the view (of Earth), the feeling of weightlessness, and the chance to take a hike . . . on the Moon. It goes without saying that the price will also be "out of this world."

Fashion: The Art of the Body

A The enormous and fascinating variety of clothing may express a person's status or social position. Several hundred years ago in Europe, Japan, and China, there were many highly detailed sumptuary laws—that is, strict regulations concerning how each social class could dress. In Europe, for example, only royal families could wear fur, purple silk, or gold cloth. In Japan, a farmer could breed silkworms, but he couldn't wear silk. In many societies, a lack of clothing indicated an absence of status. In ancient Egypt, for instance, children—who had no social status—wore no clothes until they were about twelve. These days, in most societies (especially in the West), rank or status is exhibited through regulation of dress only in the military, where the appearance or absence of certain metal buttons or stars signifies the dividing line between ranks. With the exception of the military, the divisions between different classes of society are becoming less clear. The clientele of a Paris café, for example, might include both working-class people and members of the highest society, but how can one tell the difference when everyone is wearing denim jeans?

▲ A street in Paris

1. What is the topic of Paragraph A?

- (A) the military
- (B) sumptuary laws
- (C) uniforms
- (D) status

2. What details about the topic does the paragraph provide? (Choose more than one answer.)

- (A) Strict laws in some countries used to regulate what people of each social class could wear.
- (B) Rich people wear more beautiful clothing than poor people do.
- (C) In many societies, the absence of clothing indicated an absence of status.
- (D) Today, the divisions between social classes are becoming less clear from the clothing that people wear.

3. What do the answers to numbers 1 and 2 have in common? That is, what is the main idea of Paragraph A?

- (A) Today, the differences between various social classes can be seen only in military uniforms.
- (B) Laws used to regulate how people could dress.
- (C) Clothing (or its absence) has usually indicated status or rank, but this is less true in today's world.
- (D) Clothing has been worn for different reasons since the beginning of history.

▲ Scarification

▲ Modern tattooing

B Three common types of body decoration are mehndi or henna, tattooing, and scarification. Mehndi or henna is the art of applying dye (usually dark orange or dark brown) to the skin of women in India, Islamic cultures, and Africa. The dye comes from the henna plant and is applied in a beautiful design that varies from culture to culture—fine, thin lines in India and large flower patterns in the Arab world, for example. (See page 101 for a photo of a mehndi or henna design.) A tattoo is also a design or mark made with a kind of dye (usually dark blue); however, unlike henna, it is put into a cut in the skin. In scarification—found mainly in Africa—dirt or ashes are put into the cuts instead of dye; the result is a design that is unique to the person's tribe. Three lines on each side of a man's face identify him as a member of the Yoruba tribe of Nigeria, for example. A complex geometric design on a woman's back identifies her as Nuba (from Sudan) and also makes her more beautiful in the eyes of her people. In the 1990s, tattooing became popular among youth in urban Western societies. Unlike people in tribal cultures, these young people had no tradition of tattooing, except among sailors and criminals. To these young people, the tattoos were beautiful and were sometimes also a sign of rebellion against older, more conservative people in the culture. These days, tattooing has become common and is usually not symbolic of rebellion.

1. What is the topic of Paragraph B?
 - (A) the Yoruba people
 - (B) geometric designs
 - (C) dirt and ashes
 - (D) body decoration
2. What details about the topic does the paragraph provide? (Choose more than one answer.)
 - (A) Mehndi or henna, tattooing, and scarification are types of body decoration.
 - (B) Tattoos and scarification indicate a person's tribe or social group, although youth in Western societies sometimes use tattoos as a form of rebellion.
 - (C) Scarification is very painful and is symbolic of strength.
 - (D) Designs on a person's face or body are considered beautiful.
3. Which idea below includes all the details that you chose in number 2? In other words, what is the main idea of the paragraph?
 - (A) Everyone who wants to be beautiful should get a tattoo.
 - (B) People decorate their bodies for the purposes of identification, beauty, and sometimes rebellion.
 - (C) Mehndi or henna and tattoos are designs made by putting dye on or in the skin.
 - (D) Men more often decorate their faces; women often decorate their backs.

c In some societies, women overeat to become plump because large women are considered beautiful, while skinny women are regarded as unattractive. A woman's plumpness is also an indication of her family's wealth. In other societies, by contrast, a fat person is considered unattractive, so men and women eat little and try to remain slim. In many parts of the world, people lie in the sun for hours to darken their skin, while in other places light, soft skin is seen as attractive. People with gray hair often dye it black, whereas those with naturally dark hair often change its color to blond or green or purple. 60

1. What is the topic of Paragraph C?
 - (A) hair
 - (B) skin
 - (C) body shape
 - (D) body changes
2. What details about the topic does the paragraph provide? (Choose more than one answer.)
 - (A) It is unhealthy to lose or gain too much weight.
 - (B) Some societies consider large people attractive; others, slim ones.
 - (C) Some people prefer dark hair or skin; others, light.
 - (D) Most wealthy people try to stay thin.
3. What is the main idea of Paragraph C?
 - (A) Individuals and groups of people have different ideas about physical attractiveness.
 - (B) Lying in the sun darkens the skin.
 - (C) In some societies, thinness is an indication that a family is poor.
 - (D) Dark-skinned people usually have dark hair.

D In the West, most people visit a dentist regularly for both hygiene and beauty. They use toothpaste and dental floss daily to keep their teeth clean. They have their teeth straightened, whitened, and crowned to make them more attractive to others in their culture. However, "attractive" has quite a different meaning in other cultures. In the past, in Japan, it was the custom for women to blacken, not whiten, the teeth. People in some areas of Africa and central Australia have the custom of filing the teeth to sharp points. And among the Makololo people of Malawi, the women wear a very large ring—a pelele—in their upper lip. As their chief once explained about peleles: "They are the only beautiful things women have. Men have beards. Women have none. What kind of person would she be without the pelele? She would not be a woman at all." While some people in modern urban societies think of tribal lip rings as unattractive and even "disgusting," other people—in Tokyo or New York or Rome—might choose to wear a small lip ring or to pierce their tongue and wear a ring through the hole.

1. What is the topic of Paragraph D?
 - (A) dentistry
 - (B) blackening or whitening the teeth
 - (C) changes to the human mouth
 - (D) peleles and beards
2. What details about the topic does the paragraph provide? (Choose more than one answer.)
 - (A) White teeth are attractive to all cultures.
 - (B) In the West, people visit dentists and have their teeth straightened, whitened, and crowned.
 - (C) In some cultures, people blacken their teeth or file them to sharp points, and in other cultures young people wear lip rings or tongue rings.
 - (D) Makololo women wear a large ring in their upper lip.
3. What is the main idea of Paragraph D?
 - (A) People can easily change the color or shape of their teeth.
 - (B) What is attractive has different interpretations.

 - (D) Some methods of changing the appearance of the mouth are dangerous, but others are safe.

Papua New Guinean man wearing tribal face paint

Woman wearing modern "face paint"

E Body paint or face paint is used mostly by men 80
in preliterate societies in order to attract good health or to ward off disease. Anthropologists explain that it is a form of magic protection against the dangers of the world outside the 85 village, where men have to go for the hunt or for war. When it is used as warpaint, it also serves to frighten the enemy, distinguish members of one's own group from the enemy, and give the men a sense of identity, of belonging to the group. 90
Women in these societies have less need of body or face paint because they usually stay in the safety of the village. Women in Victorian society in England and the United States were expected to wear little or no makeup. They were excluded 95 from public life and therefore didn't need protection from the outside world. In modern societies, however, cosmetics are used mostly by women, who often feel naked, unclothed, without makeup when out in public—like a tribal hunter without his warpaint. 100

1. What is the topic of Paragraph E?
 - (A) body and face paint
 - (B) men's warpaint
 - (C) modern women's cosmetics
 - (D) magic protection
2. What details about the topic does the Paragraph provide? (Choose more than one answer.)
 - (A) Body or face paint is usually worn by men in tribal societies.
 - (B) People wear body or face paint to make them more attractive.
 - (C) Makeup ("face paint") is usually worn by women in modern societies.
 - (D) When women are excluded from public life, they wear little or no makeup.
3. What is the main idea of Paragraph E?
 - (A) Body paint gives men a sense of identity.
 - (B) Women in modern times wear makeup to be more beautiful.
 - (C) In the past, men wore face paint, but in modern times, women wear it.
 - (D) Body or face paint may be worn as a sort of protection by people who leave the home or village.

In some societies, women overeat to become plump because large women are considered beautiful, while skinny women are regarded as unattractive. A woman's plumpness is also an indication of her family's wealth. In other societies, by contrast, a fat person is considered unattractive, so men and women eat little and try to remain slim. In many parts of the world, people lie in the sun for hours to darken their skin, while in other places light, soft skin is seen as attractive. People with gray hair often dye it black, whereas those with naturally dark hair often change its color to blond or purple.

Now answer the questions that follow.

Choose the most appropriate answer:

1. The most appropriate topic for the paragraph is _____
 - A. Skin Change
 - B. Hair Color
 - C. Different views about body shape
 - D. Family's Wealth

 2. The best Main Idea of the paragraph is that _____
 - A. people with gray hair often dye it with black
 - B. people lie in the sun to darken their skin
 - C. women's plumpness is also an indication of wealth
 - D. people have different attitudes about their bodies

 3. Why do men and women eat little in some in some societies? _____
 - A. To remain slim
 - B. To become plump
 - C. Because they are poor
 - D. To save much money

 4. The underlined pronoun " their " Line 5 refers _____
 - A. people
 - B. women
 - C. men
 - D. fat persons

 5. The word in the paragraph that is closest in meaning to the word " thin " is _____

We all know the expression to change your mind. But is it possible literally to change your mind-or, to be more precise, to change your brain? Reports from 2005 says yes. First, the bad news, at least for smokers: a study from the University of Edinburgh, in Scotland. It concludes that smoking makes people less intelligent. On cognitive tests (tests that involve judgment), smokers did significantly worse than nonsmokers. The theory that toxins- poisons- in the smoke enter the blood and damage blood vessels providing the brain with oxygen. And there is more bad news, for most of us: a study from the University of London says that “ informania”- the constant flood of information from cell phones, emails, and text messaging- can reduce intelligence by ten points on an IQ test.

Countable and Uncountable nouns:

* Countable nouns can be singular or plural:

e.g. - My dog is playing.
- My dogs are hungry.
- I have got one egg.
- I have got two eggs.

*We can use the indefinite article a/an with countable nouns:

e.g. - A dog is an animal.
- I'm waiting for a bus.

*When a countable noun is singular, we must use a word like a/the/my/this with it:

e.g. - I want an orange. (not I want orange.)
- Where is my bottle? (not Where is bottle?)

*When a countable noun is plural, we can use it alone:

e.g. - I like oranges.
- Bottles can break.

*We can use some and any with countable and uncountable nouns:

Some is used in

Any is used in

e.g. - I've got some dollars. - Some people arrived. -I bought some milk.
- Have you got any pens? - Did you meet any friends in the city? -I didn't have any water.

- Practice:

Complete the sentences with a, an, some or any.

- 1.- Would you like cup of coffee?
- 2.- There is Butter in the fridge.
- 3.- Can I make telephone call?
- 4.- There weren't in the house.

We can use a few and many with plural countable nouns:

- e.g.
- I've got a few dollars.
 - I've got a few friends.
 - I haven't got many pens.
 - They haven't got many friends.

We can use a little and much with uncountable nouns:

- e.g.
- I've got a little money.
 - I haven't got much rice.
 - I've got a little milk.
 - We've haven't got much time

- Practice:

A:: Write a few, a little, much or many to complete these sentences. Don't use some, any or a lot of.

- 1.- There's some food but not drink.
- 2.- people arrived before the party started, but not many.
- 3.- There's not coffee in the cup.
- 4.- She hasn't got friends.
- 5.- I'm sorry, I haven't got Time.
- 6.- The receptionist didn't give me Information.

B:: A lot of – some / any – Much / Many – A few / A little Underline the correct item.

- 1.- Are you hungry? There is a little / a few roast beef left.
- 2.- I can't make a cake. We haven't got much / any eggs.
- 3.- There is a few / a lot of sugar in the cupboard. we don't need to buy any.
- 4.- Can I have some / much milk for my coffee?
- 5.- We need a few / much more peppers to make the dish.
- 6.- We've got a lot of / a little bananas so you don't have to buy any.
- 7.- There isn't many / much food left. We'll have to go shopping.
- 8.- This restaurant offers a few / a little vegetarian dishes

 "People" is countable. "People" is the plural of "person". We can count people:

- e.g.
- There is one person here.
 - There are three people here.

#Uncountable Nouns:

Unlike Countable nouns, which can be counted, Uncountable nouns are substances, concepts etc that we cannot divide into separate elements. We cannot "count" them. For example, we cannot count "milk". We can count "bottles of milk" or "litres of milk", but we cannot count "milk" itself.

-Here are some more uncountable nouns:

music, art, love, happiness → senses
advice, information, news
furniture, luggage
rice, sugar, butter, water → liquids
electricity, gas, power
money, currency

*We usually treat uncountable nouns as singular. We use a singular verb:

- e.g. - This news is very important.
 - Your luggage looks heavy.

*We do not usually use the indefinite article a/an with uncountable nouns. We cannot say "an information" or "a music". But we can say a something of:

- e.g. - a piece of news
 - a bottle of water
 - a grain of rice

*We can use some and any with uncountable nouns:

- e.g. - I've got some money.
 - Have you got any rice?

Uncountable

money
 music luggage
 furniture electricity wine
 information advice travel work
 scenery

Countable

dollar
 song suitcase
 table
 battery bottle
 report tip journey
 job
 view

*Nouns that can be Countable and Uncountable:

Sometimes, the same noun can be countable and uncountable, often with a change of meaning.

What is a noun? Noun is a word which refers to a thing, person, activity, place etc.
e.g. car - teacher - reading - street

#What is an adjective? Adjective is a word which describes a noun.

e.g. adj. big fast expensive n. car

1st syllable

#What is a syllable? Syllable is a part of a word containing vowel sound. e.g. reading ing

2nd syllable

Syllables – examples:

1. One-syllable adjectives ---> fast - cheap - big - long
2. Two-syllable adjectives ---> hap py - cra zy - dir ty
3. Three-syllable adjectives ---> important - wonderful

* LET'S START ☺

Adjectives and adverbs are words that modify other words. The comparative form of an adjective or adverb compares two things. The superlative form of an adjective or adverb compares three or more things.

#What is a “comparative form”? Comparative form expresses the idea of ‘more’

e.g. fast-er (my car is fast. But his car is faster.)

>>How is a ‘comparative’ form built?

- one syllable adjectives long er
- two syllable adjectives ending in -ly funny ier
- other two and three syllable adjectives more modern
- irregular adjectives for example ‘good’ better

>>Change of ‘y’ into ‘i’

We want the comparative form of the adjective ‘funny’

Funny+ er → (y→i) → funn +ier = funnier

#What is a “superlative form”? Comparative form expresses the idea of ‘most’

e.g. fast-est My car is fast. Your car is fast. But his car is the fastest.

>>How is a ‘superlative’ form built?

- one syllable adjectives long est
- two syllable adjectives ending in -ly funny iest
- other two and three syllable adjectives most modern
- irregular adjectives for example ‘good’ best

Summary comparison:

	comparative	superlative
long funny modern good	longer funnier more modern better	longest funniest most modern best

*To make comparative and superlative forms of adjectives some rules must be followed.

Rule 1

To form the comparative or superlative of one syllable words with more than one vowel OR ending with more than one consonant ⇒ at the add -er OR -est.

e.g.	tall	taller	tallest
	neat	neater	neatest
	deep	deeper	deepest

Rule 2

To form the comparative or superlative of a one syllable word ending in e ⇒ add -r OR -st.

e.g.	wide	wider	widest
	fine	finer	finest
	cute	cuter	cutest

Rule 3

To form the comparative or superlative of a one syllable word with one vowel and one consonant at the end ⇒ double the consonant, and add -er OR -est.

e.g.	sad	sadder	saddest
	big	bigger	biggest
	fat	fatter	fattest

Rule 4

To form the comparative or superlative of a two syllable word ending in y, ⇒ change the y to i, then add -er OR -est.

e.g.	happy	happier	happiest
	jolly	jollier	jolliest
	lazy	lazier	laziest

Rule 5

To form the comparative or superlative of a two syllable word ending a vowel-sound that is not stressed then ⇒ add -er OR -est.

Adjectives ending in -le, -ow, er frequently take -er and -est.

e.g.	yellow	yellower	yellowest
	gentle	gentler	gentlest
	simple	simpler	simplest

Rules at a Glance:

Adjective form	Comparative	Superlative
Only one syllable, with more than one vowel or more than one consonant at the end. e.g. light, neat, fast, tall, neat .	Add -er: lighter, neater, faster, taller, neater.	Add -est: lightest, neatest, fastest, tallest. Neatest.
Only one syllable, ending in E. e.g. wide .	Add -r: wider .	Add -st: widest .
Only one syllable, with one vowel and one consonant at the end. e.g. hot, big, fat, sad	Double the consonant, and add -er: hotter, bigger, fatter, sadder	Double the consonant, and add -est: hottest, biggest, fattest, saddest
Two syllables, ending in Y. e.g. happy, silly, lonely, jolly	Change y to i, then add -er: happier, sillier, lonelier, jollier	Change y to i, then add -est: happiest, silliest, loneliest, jolliest
two syllable word ending a vowel-sound that is not stressed e.g. yellow, simple	Add -er: yellower, simpler	Add -est: yellowest, simplest
Two syllables or more, not ending in Y. e.g. modern, interesting, beautiful .	Use more before the adj. : more modern, more interesting, more beautiful	Use most before the adjective: most modern, most interesting, most beautiful

NOTE like adjectives some adverbs can take comparative and superlative forms, with -er and -est:

- Sally works hard.
- Steve works harder than Sally
- Kathy and Sue work the hardest of all.
- The bird sings loudly.
- The moose sang louder than the bird.
- Pete sang the loudest of them all.

List of Adverbs in Which -er and -est May Be Added:

Adverb	Comparative	Superlative
fast	Faster	fastest
slow	Slower	slowest
quick	Quicker	quickest
early	Earlier	earliest
bright	Brighter	brightest
high	Higher	highest

However, the majority of adverbs do not take these endings. Instead, they form the comparative using more and the superlative using most:

Adverb	Comparative	Superlative
recently	more recently	most recently
effectively	more effectively	most effectively
frequently	more frequently	most frequently

Irregular Comparative and Superlative Adjectives and Adverbs:

Some comparative and superlative forms are irregular and do not follow any rules or patterns. These must be memorized.

#USE OF COMPARATIVES:

Comparatives are very commonly followed by than and a pronoun or noun group, in order to describe who the other person or thing involved in the comparison is.

- e.g.
- John is taller than me.
 - I think that she's more intelligent than her sister.

>>OTHER USES OF COMPARATIVES:

✓ Comparatives are often qualified by using words and phrases such as much, a lot, far, a bit/little, slightly etc.

- e.g.
- You should go by train, it would be much cheaper.
 - Could you be a bit quieter?
 - I'm feeling a lot better.
 - Do you have one that's slightly bigger?

✓ Two comparatives can be contrasted by placing the before them, indicating that a change in one quality is linked to a change in another.

- e.g.
- The smaller the gift, the easier it is to send.
 - The more stressed you are, the worse it is for your health.

✓ Two comparatives can also be linked with and to show a continuing increase in a particular quality.

- e.g.
- The sea was getting rougher and rougher.
 - Her illness was becoming worse and worse.
 - He became more and more tired as the weeks went by

#USE OF SUPERLATIVES:

As shown in the second two examples, superlatives are often used on their own if it is clear what or who is being compared. If you want to be specific about what you are comparing, you can do this with a noun, or a phrase beginning with in or of.

- e.g.
- Annabel was the youngest child
 - Annabel was the youngest of the children
 - This restaurant is the best in town.

#THE OPPOSITES OF COMPARATIVE AND SUPERLATIVES:

-We use the forms less (the opposite of comparative more), and the least (the opposite of superlative the most).
-Less is used to indicate that something or someone does not have as much of a particular quality as someone or something else.

- e.g.
- This sofa is less comfortable.
 - I've always been less patient than my sister.

-The least is used to indicate that something or someone has less of a quality than any other person or thing of its kind.

- e.g.
- It's the least expensive way to travel.
 - She was the least intelligent of the three sisters.

#Irregular Adverbs:

Word	Comparative	Superlative
badly	worse	Worst
much	more	Most
little	less	Least
much	more	most
well	better	best

#Irregular Adjectives:

Word	Comparative	Superlative
good	better	best
bad	worse	worst
much	More	Most
little	Less	Least
far	farther	Farthest
old	older elder	oldest eldest

- Example:
- Nathan made good stew.
 - Molly's stew was better than Nathan's.
 - Ezra made the best stew of all.

A hundred years ago, in most of the world, people didn't have much choice about the work that they would do, where they would do it, or how they would do it. If their parents were farmers, they became farmers. The society and tradition determined their profession. twenty years ago in many countries, people could choose their livelihood. They also had the certainty of a job for life, but they usually couldn't choose to change from one employer to another or from one profession to another. Today, this is not always the case. Career councilors tell us that the world of work is already changing fast and will change dramatically in the next 25 years.

The situation varies from country to country, but in today's economy, there is generally less job security worldwide. Even in Japan, where people traditionally had a very secure job for life, there is now no promise of a lifetime job with the same company. One reason for the lack of job security is the worldwide decrease in manufacturing jobs. Another reason is employer's need to hold down costs. This has resulted in two enormous changes for the workforce.

- Questions:

- The most appropriate TOPIC for the reading passage is: _____
 A. Career counselors
 B. The society and tradition
 C. Parents and farmers
 D. Changing career trends
- The part speech of the underlined word "choice" is: A/ An _____

 B. Noun
 C. Adjective
 D. Adverb
- The underlined word "varies" has the same meaning as the word: _____
 A. carries
 B. constructs
 C. differs
 D. watches

# What's Phrase ?

A group of words that forms part of a clause. A phrase is built up on a HEADWORD, and the types of phrase are named according to the class the headword belongs to:

	HEADWORD	EXAMPLE	USES IN CLASUSES
NOUN PHRASE	noun	a large jug of water	Subject, object, complement
VERB PHRASE	verb	have been seeing	verb
PREPOSITIONAL PHRASE	preposition	by the roadside	Adverbial, part of a noun phrase
ADJECTIVE PHRASE	Adjective	very big indeed	Part of a noun phrase, complement
ADVERB PHRASE	Adverb	rather too slowly	Adverbial

Basic Grammar Terminology:

To get started, here is a basic review of grammar terminology.

Part of Speech	Function or "job"	Example
Verb	action or state	Peter ate dinner.
Noun	thing or person	The dog watched the squirrel .
Adjective	describes a noun	The hungry dog watched the grey squirrel.
Adverb	describes a verb, adjective or adverb	The hungry dog intently watched the grey squirrel.
Pronoun	replaces a noun	He ate dinner
Preposition	links a noun to another word	I gave a bone to the dog.
Conjunction	joins clauses or words	Peter read the paper and listened to the radio while he ate dinner.

What Makes a Sentence?

- * A complement is a great deal like an object , but it differs in that it does not "receive" the action a verb. Instead it "is" the subject.
- * Complement can be nouns or adjectives. The key to understanding them is understanding the verbs that they follow.

Verbs that take complements ... (thank you very much!)

Intensive Verbs such as be and feel do not have action moving “out” of them to affect a noun. Instead they hold action “within” them.

Look at the images above the verbs in the following sentences:

- The verb threw is NOT an intensive verb (the action moves out of it to affect the object).
- The verb is IS an intensive verb: Peter and happy are the same thing, so the mathematical equal sign better represents the “action” of this intensive verb.

Common Intensive English Verbs:

be feel seem became

Remember that these verbs can be followed by nouns or adjectives. Either way, the words that follow intensive verbs “are” the subjects before the verb ... that is how you can identify a complement.

-EXAMPLE:

And this is also a sentence ...

*More Adverbial Examples:

- Peter was a student last year.
- Peter went to New York to visit his aunt.

- Peter drive quickly.

Sentence Components:

So, we can symbolize the basic components of a sentence in the following way:

S + V / O
or C or A

Where:

- S = subject (a noun or pronoun that does an action)
- V = verb (the action itself)
- / = "optional" → some verbs do not need an O, C or A
- O = object (a noun or pronoun that receives an action)
- C = complement (an adjective or noun that is the subject)
- A = adverbial (an adverbial that tells more about the action)

But here's a new question, is this a sentence?

Peter ate dinner while he watched TV.

Yes, this is a sentence. It is the sentence from an earlier slide (Peter ate dinner) with additional information added ... now we know that Peter was doing two things at once, eating dinner and watching TV.

-->Let's take a look at the components of this new sentence.

We have the original subject Peter with its verb ate and its object dinner.

But the sentence continues with a second subject, this time he, a second verb, watched, and a second object, TV.

Clause:

Our one sentence is basically two "mini" sentences hooked together by the word while.

Peter ate dinner. While he watched TV.

"Mini" sentences, units of S/V/O, C or A, within a sentence are called clauses.

1 Peter ate dinner while he watched TV.

This sentence is composed of two clauses.

But we can still add more to this sentence.

2

*A bigger sentence ...

{After exercising,} Peter ate dinner while he watched TV.

-In addition to the two clauses we are familiar with, this sentence has the added words after exercising.

-The words after exercising work together to give extra information about the clauses, but they do not form a clause. They form a phrase.

Phrase:

One way to define a phrase is to say it is a group of words that “belong together” in terms of meaning but do not have both a subject and a verb.

Phrase \neq S + V

Another way to think of a phrase is to think of how it works within a sentence. When you think of a phrase this way, you can define it as:

Phrase = a group of words that acts like one word

-e.g.

Here is a phrase:

1. the gym at the end of the street

It acts like a noun → The gym at the end of the street is new.

It functions as the subject of the sentence and subjects are nouns.

* a phrase within a phrase

Phrases can have phrases “in” them.

Look carefully and you will find a phrase within the phrase:

the gym at the end of the street the gym at the end of the street.

This phrase within the first phrase acts like an adjective → The gym at the end of the street is new.

This phrase gives more information about the noun, thus acting like an adjective

-->> The second phrase, at the end of the street, can be replaced with a one word adjective such as large.

The gym at the end of the street is new.

large

The large gym is new.

This replacement of the group of words by one word demonstrates the idea that a phrase is a group of words acting as one word.

-->> testing

-The one word that a phrase can be reduced to lets you know its function within the sentence.

-It also serves as a way to classify phrases. This part of the phrase that “holds” its function within the greater sentence is called the head.

-In English, the head is often the first word of the phrase.

*naming phrases:

Phrases are classified by the type of head they take:

- Prepositional phrase with a preposition as head
(e.g. in love, over the rainbow)
- Noun phrase with a noun as head
(e.g. the black cat, a cat on the mat)
- Verb phrase with a verb as head
(e.g. eat cheese, jump up and down)
- Adjectival phrase with an adjective as head (e.g. full of toys)
- Adverbial phrase with an adverb as head (e.g. very carefully)

>> Putting it all together <<

->Sentences are composed of clauses and phrases. Some sentences have only one clause and no phrase:

Peter ate dinner.

->Others have two or more clauses:

Because Peter ate dinner while he watched TV, he got indigestion.

->Other sentences have clauses and phrases:

[After exercising at the gym across the street,] Peter ate dinner [in the kitchen] while he watched TV.

Using Clauses and Phrases:

Once identifying clauses and phrases becomes easy for you, you will begin to notice how good writers put their sentence together.

Additionally, once you become comfortable finding clauses and phrases in writing, you can begin to work with the punctuation rules for correctly and effectively putting clauses and phrases together.
