We're going to start with reductions

We normal use it in our fast speech.

For e.g.: the word going to become gonna

I'm going to eat dinner with my family.

This is the long and correct form.

When we want to make a reduction

I'm gonna eat dinner with my family.

This is the sort form, and it's not correct in writing.

Another e.g.: I havta study hard.

Which form is this?

And that's it
