

(On the other hand), not everyone is positive about gene-splicing technology. Some people feel that it could have terrible consequences. (In fact), a type of corn engineered to kill a certain insect pest also threatened to annihilate desirable monarch butterflies. In another accident, a genetically engineered type of corn that was approved only for animal consumption because it was toxic to humans accidentally cross-pollinated with corn grown for humans. (As a result), many countries banned imports of genetically modified corn for several years. (Furthermore), the ability to clone human beings is a possibility that frightens many people. In 2004, two South Korean scientists reported that they had successfully cloned a human embryo. The embryo did not develop into a baby; however, it is possible that one could do so in the future, a possibility that not everyone is comfortable with.
