HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR ENGLISH

Abstract:

This research focuses on several aspects of the subject (How to improve your English), also there are important factors for the education and development of English language, some methods currently used to develop it, failures located where learners are delaying progress the development of their English, finally some suggestions that contribute to development learners of their English language.

Objective:

- Learner urged to pursue the acquisition and development of his language.
- Attention to the psychological aspect of the English language learner, learning and development "second" language are promotes self-confidence, as Charlemagne said: "To have another language is to possess a second soul".
- The acquisition of cognitive and linguistic proceeds always new and renewable.
- Ensure to development of English language, English language is like most languages kept pace with developments of time, thought and persons in all aspects.
- Increased awareness of learner and urged him to integrate into the society around him, especially if this community his native language is (English).

Introduction:

We all know how important of English language, where it has become a universal language; because of easy learned, acquired and developed. Saudi Arabia realized importance of teaching and learning English for its members. The government keen to enter English curricula to their schools and universities, have been allocated oversee cadres and educational bodies from long time. The government did not ignore keep up with all new things in quest for development of teachers and learners of English in all aspects of modern technology. It is also ridiculed all of its possibilities of physical and human resources.

Research focuses on:
- What is the meaning of development English?
- Important factors for development of language skills.
- An appropriate environment for learning and development language.
- Some things that delay the progress of development of language.
- Some suggestions that contribute to development of learners English.
- Conclusion

Methodology:

In this research I summarize the important points of some books on the Internet, thoughts of readings precedent and sporadic, notes I made when I study English whether in institute or in King Faisal University , some information I collected and summarized whether from reading or videos teaching about improve English.

Conclusion:

This research pointed out the important aspects which helping to develop English language learners, highlighted the main factors that contribute to development of language, offer some ideas and proposals to support and urged learners to develop their language. Many researchers discussed aspects of this research and there are still other aspects need further research; because of the importance to theme of this search.